

STATEMENT

Professor Jesus Miguel López Rodilla, from the Department of Chemistry of the University of Beira Interior, as Guest Editor of the MDPI Publishing House, reported that I was contacted by the Company AEMITEQ to make a publication in a Journal about the incidence of microplastics in bottled waters.

Due to the interest that this topic presents in drinking water, a methodology has been developed to assess this content of contaminating microplastics, for this reason we think that it is of greatest interest to publish this publication in Food Journal.
